President Of Battlefield Preservation Association Cites Objective Of Group

Major William M. Haller, president of the Gettysburg Battlefield Preservation Association, today addressed a communication to The Times outlining in detail the reason for the objective of the association. The self-explanatory letter follows.

Through the courtesy of The Gettysburg Times, I'm addressing this letter to all citizens of Gettysburg and Adams County. As you of course know, the preservation of the Gettysburg Battlefield has been a concern of the citizens of your town and county almost from the moment when the guns ceased firing up to the present time. It was local citizens who conceived the idea of the National Cemetery, it was local citizens who in 1864 organized the Battlefield Memorial Association which began the slow acquisition of battlefield land.

U. S. Acquires Land

Since that time the federal government has assumed the responsibility of preserving the Battlefield, and has acquired much important land. But lately two conditions have arisen which

Two local men were treated at the Warner Hospital this morning for cuts and lacerations after allegedly being involved in a fight near the West Gettysburg Inn about 2 a.m.

SHRIVER TO HEAD MAY 30 COMMITTEE

Chester S. Shriver, state secretary of the Sons of Union Veterans and past commander of the local S.U.V., was re-elected chairman of Gettysburg's Memorial Day committee at a meeting of representatives of the Sons of Veterans, American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars Friday evening at the GAR rooms, E Middle St.

John Edward Kerrigan, of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and Richard Fox, of the American Legion, were named as vice chairmen.

William G. Weaver, of the American Legion, was named secretary to succeed G. Henry Roth who declined renomination.

Arthur W. Warman, treasurer of the Sons of Union Veterans camp here and a representative of the Albert J. Lentz American Legion Post, was elected treasurer succeeding Jesse E. Snyder.

Snyder, a member of the camp council of the Sons of Union Veterans, had served as treasurer for many years and asked to be relieved of the assignment this year. The committee passed a vote of appreciation to the retiring treasurer for his many years of "devoted service to Memorial Day in the community."

Inviting Gov. Lawrence

The committee voted to ask Gov. David L. Lawrence to speak May 30 in accordance with a tradition extending back over many years by which the governor of Pennsylvania speaks at Gettysburg on Memorial Day during his second year in office.

The chairman and vice chairman were named as the speaker's committee to extend the invitation to the governor.

Because the 104th Armored Cavalry is known historically as "The Governor's Troop" since it was established by a governor of Pennsylvania, the committee voted to ask the entire Second Squadron of the National Guard unit to march here Memorial Day.

Proposed School Merger Votes In Three Jointures Miss Deadline For April

LITTLESTOWN COUPLE GIVEN $300 DAMAGES

A board of view has awarded Mr. and Mrs. P. Bernard Weaver, Littlestown, $300 damages for a freehold wide strip from the front of their property to permit widening of W. Myrtle St. in Littlestown.

The report of the board of view in the damages action brought by Mr. and Mrs. Weaver against Littlestown Borough was filed this morning in the prothonotary's office here by Attorney J. Francis Yake Jr., who with John K. Lott and George S. Schaeffer comprised the board of view.

The report shows the Weavers had asked $1,600 damages of the Borough of Littlestown in their suit. Mr. Weaver alleged at the hearing that his property had been worth $14,250 before the taking of the land and $13,250 afterward. Stanley R. Sell, Littlestown, who appeared as a witness for Weaver, said the damages were "between $700 and $1,000." Biddle M. Jones, Littlestown, for the borough, said there were no damages. Samuel J. Snyder, Littlestown, also appearing for the borough, said the taking improved the property by $2,000 worth and Joseph P. Redding, Littlestown, said the taking increased the value of the property by from $1,500 to $2,000. Harry D. Rindinger, Gettysburg, also a borough of Littlestown witness, said he believed $300 damage had been done; that the property was worth $15,000 before and $14,700 after the taking.

Straban Line Okay

In the present setup, Gettysburg and Littlestown jointures divide Mr. Joy Tap, and the Littlestown and New Oxford jointures divide Mr. Pleasant.

The dividing line in Straban between Gettysburg and New Oxford jointures has been agreed upon, it was learned.

To have gotten the merger question on the spring primary ballots on April 26, the necessary petitions would have had to be presented to the Adams County court not later than today. Because of the unsettled dividing lines which have to be described in the court petitions, those papers could not be taken to court today.

15 Districts Involved

A special meeting of the Gettysburg joint board early this month had seen a decision to petition the county board to have the merger question put on the primary ballot. Similar action was taken by the New Oxford and Littlestown joint boards at meetings this month. There had been a special meeting of the county board last week when general approval was given the merger petitions from the three joint districts.

Negotiations broke down after that point on the matter of Littlestown boundaries.

Three boroughs and 12 townships are involved in the three merger votes.

The Gettysburg Times was informed Friday that the proposed school merger votes in the Gettysburg, Littlestown and New Oxford jointures cannot be held in April as planned.

The next opportunity for a vote on the merger plans in the three districts would be the general election in November.

The county superintendent's office said today a formal announcement concerning the status of the merger vote plans will be made at the January meeting of the county board of school directors Monday evening at the county superintendent's office.

The explanation, pending confirmation by a county board announcement, is that Littlestown jointure boundary lines in Mt. Joy Twp. and in Mt. Pleasant Twp. have not yet been agreed upon.

In the present setup, Gettysburg and Littlestown jointures divide Mr. Joy Tap, and the Littlestown and New Oxford jointures divide Mr. Pleasant.

YOUNG HEIRESS WILL RETURN; FLED TO PARIS

PARIS (AP) — The lawyer for the Benedict family of New York said today 19-year-old runaway heiress Gamble Benedict will return tonight to the United States.

Lawyer Robert Hoffman, interviewed as he emerged from a juvenile court hearing, said "she's going back tonight with Douglas," Douglas is her brother.

He then ended the interview with newsmen and drove away from the Palace of Justice where the young heiress was called in by Judge Roland Levy.

The runaway girl and her Roman-born boy friend, Andre Porumbescu, 33, appeared before Judge Levy in a private hearing room packed with lawyers for Miss Benedict and her wealthy New York family.

Fearing Kidnaping
The girl was smuggled into the room through one of the many passageways beneath the ornate Palace of Justice. Porumbescu walked through the main entrance and told reporters he thought he and Miss Benedict were being kidnaped when they were picked up by police Friday night.

"We were on our way to a restaurant where we had been invited by Douglas," said Porumbescu. "We suddenly saw that we were being followed."

"We were a little afraid and thought of a possible kidnaping, especially since Gamble's grandmother had written that she would get Gamble back to New York by any means."

Faster Procedure
"We were somewhat reassured to find out it was the police."

One of the Benedict family lawyers at the hearing told reporters: "Gamble would have had to return to New York anyway since an order was filed there ordering her to return. However, we would have had to ask for the application of the order in France and this would have taken some time. The present procedure is faster."

Although no legal undertakings have been made public, the heart of the hearing before Judge Levy is an appeal to place Miss Benedict under the protection of French justice as a minor, since she is under 21. If this were done, the judge would be empowered to order her to follow such procedures as he deemed best for her welfare.

money definitely earmarked for its purchase, is to be turned over to the national government.

Seek Local Support

How do the citizens of Gettysburg and Adams County fit into the picture as we of the association see it? Primarily, because the battlefield is in their own backyard, so to speak, we earnestly desire their sympathy with our aims, recruit their whole support and their understanding of what a unification of the battlefield area will mean to them as well as to the nation. In every movement of this kind misunderstandings are bound to arise. We believe that some now exist in the minds of conscientious citizens.

For example, there is the question of the decreased tax revenue that would come with the revision of land to the government. It is a good question, and since it touches the most sensitive nerve in the human body—the pocketbook—we believe that the slightly reduced revenue from taxes will in the end be more than balanced by business and housing expansion in controlled directions on the one hand, and by increasing revenue by continued tourist trade on the other. Nationwide interest has been aroused in our national military parks situation, and an assurance that visitors may see these battlefields much as they were a hundred years ago will encourage more tourists and serious students to lengthier stays. And that will mean more money spent locally on food, lodging, auto supplies, books, film—one could extend this list indefinitely. Moreover, the increase in money spent in the community will inevitably result in an increase in local employment for a very appreciable number or residents.

National Prestige

In brief, far from injuring business, the accomplishment of the aim of the Gettysburg Battlefield Preservation Association would result in the building up of Gettysburg in community income and in national prestige.

Gettysburg is represented on the Gettysburg Battlefield Preservation Association by three outstanding local citizens, we would like to see others volunteer to assist. More would probably have been among the original board members, except for the circumstances of our organization from the members of the college Civil War study group, which met in August, 1939. We want and need the cooperation of public-spirited citizens of Gettysburg and Adams County, for the practical problems involved concern them.

The problems posed by the aims of the Gettysburg Battlefield Preservation Association are both immediate and long range. Immediate in the sense that prompt action is necessary to meet certain situations in preserving battlefield land; long range in our desire to promote goodwill and the future prosperity of Gettysburg.

Nonprofit Group

The Gettysburg Battlefield Preservation Association is emphatically a public-spirited, nonprofit organization. Its sole purpose and function is exactly what its name implies: the saving for posterity of America's great national patriotic shrine, the Battlefield of Gettysburg. When that is accomplished, you and we may take pride in a mission completed for our children's children. Let's work together to realize that aim.

13 STALLIONS REGISTERED

Adams County's stallion docket came back into action Friday in wholesale fashion Prothonotary Herbert Miller received papers on 13 horses owned by the Hanover Shoe Farms to be registered.

Miller took down Docket No. 80 and discovered that the last entry in the book had been made 24 years ago.

The prothonotary discovered O. M. Deardorff had entered the last registered stallion in January, 1936. The last grade stallion had been registered by then Prothonotary G. Harry Roth for Quinton Robert in 1922.

Miller was specially interested to discover the third to last entry in the registered stallion list. It was made in 1919 for a horse owned by his father, John W. Miller.

But the new entries today are a list of "who's who" among standardized trotting horses.

The animals, all registered with the National Trotting Association, include 26-year-old Dean Hanover, one of the all-time greats of the harness racing field; Hickory Smoke, foaled in 1934; Hoot Mon, foaled in 1944; Knight Dream, foaled in 1945; Newport Dream, foaled 1951; Nibble Hanover, foaled in 1936; Sampson Hanover, 1947; Scotch Victor, 1949; Solicitor, 1948; Star Pride, 1947, and Tar Heel, 1941; Titan Hanover, 1942, and Torpid, 1943.

ASKING DATE FOR HEARING

Eugene Walter Zimmerman, Mechanicsburg R. D., has asked the Adams County court to fix a date for a hearing at which some "reasonable" alimony can be set for his wife, Eleanor Zimmerman, Gettysburg R. 4.

Mrs. Zimmerman in a prior petition to the county court had asked that the books of Holiday East and Holiday West motels, owned and operated by her husband and other pertinent financial records of her husband be brought here to determine the amount of alimony to be paid in connection with her suit for divorce against her husband. In that petition she had alleged her husband makes $85,000 a year and had suggested payments to her not exceeding one-third. The court had set a date at which the books were to be brought here for study, but gave Zimmerman an opportunity to protest the matter by an answer.

In his answer, filed for him by Atty. John H. Bream, Harrisburg, and Atty. J. Francis Yake Jr., Gettysburg, Zimmerman alleges that his wife has no grounds for divorce against him and on the contrary deserted him. She had alleged indignities and infidelities.

Zimmerman denied that he had stopped supporting his wife, said instead he gave her $1,000 on April 13, 1959, and had been sending her $500 each month since, including such a check on January 13. He also said he gave her an additional $1,000 in December, provided her with use of a Cadillac and paid numerous of her personal expenses.

He denied he earns $85,000 a year as owner of the motels, and alleged his annual net income is $38,087 per year.

These observers say Castro wants to gain possession of nearly a billion dollars worth of American agricultural and industrial investments in Cuba in line with the nationalization of Cuban economy.

Seeks Naval Base

Eventually, they say, he hopes to oust the Americans from the 45-square-mile tract that comprises the U.S. Guantanamo base. A Castro bid for the 45-square-mile Guantanamo base would be hard to achieve. The United States has a firm international agreement for leasing the base, made perpetual by a treaty signed in Washington in 1934.

This provides that control over the base may be changed only by U.S. abandonment of the area or by agreement between the United States and Cuba.

As yet Castro himself has shown no official intention of pushing the United States out of Guantanamo, although there have been rumblings of a campaign against a "violation of Cuban sovereignty" by the presence of a foreign base or, this island.

Guantanamo is situated in a remote, sparsely settled section of eastern Cuba. Its main buildings and installations are many miles inside heavy steel fences and well-guarded gates which seal it off from the rest of Cuba.

Valuable Base

Rear Adm. Frank W. Fennel commands 140 officers and 1,400 men plus several hundred American civilians and at least 2,900 American dependents. When U.S. fleet elements arrive for training or supplies, the number of U.S. servicemen on the base usually doubles.

American officials here are convinced a formal demand for Americans to get out of Guantanamo would fit into the pattern of Castro's campaign, but they doubt it would gain much headway in Washington.

The land on the base is worth only about two million dollars. The installations are valued at more than 65 million however, and the base is worth much more as the main U.S. training and supply center in the South Atlantic.

Mav Fire Teacher Who Drank Beer

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Beer-drinking high school teacher Edward Mazieka faced a suspension today for drinking a bottle of beer at a school banquet held at a restaurant.

Asst. Supt. Richard Jones suspended Mazieka with pay pending a board meeting Monday. He said the incident had occurred last Wednesday night at a journalism banquet attended by the teacher, and about 40 pupils.

Mazieka said he had one bottle with his dinner.

"I grew up in a Lithuanian household where we drank beer with meals," he said.

"Teachers everywhere know this is not to be done," Dr. John McFarland, the superintendent said. "It is not conducive to the character development of students."

Pumping Fresh Air To 400 Trapped Miners Revives Hope For Their Safety

COALBROOK, South Africa (AP) — Word that fresh air was reaching the area where 400 African and 6 white coal miners collapsed 600 feet below ground spurred fresh efforts today by rescue teams hacking through a wall of debris.

While teams spelled each other in a round-the-clock battle to reach the trapped men, some workers on reaching to the pithead brought reports that fresh air was blowing toward the enclosed section across the mile-thick rubble barrier.

Veteran miners said that if the trapped men had not been killed in the two rock falls that sealed them underground Thursday, there was a sliver of hope some might survive.

May Live Three Months
They expressed the belief the men would not perish from thirst or hunger. Water seeps continuously through the rock walls, and 45 horses still trapped with the men could provide food.

One miner estimated that the men could stay alive for three months.

Thirty pit ponies were brought to the surface this morning. Rescue workers said if the ponies could live in the area where the miners were trapped, so could the men if they were not smothered to death.

The horses were in an area of the mine where deadly methane gas was feared. It was not known, however, how far the trapped men were from the wrecked portion of the mine where the ponies were found.

No Early Rescue

There was little chance of reaching the men soon, however. Gas pockets, rising water levels, and new rockfalls have threatened the rescue workers and hampered their efforts.

"We will be lucky if we break through to where the men are entombed in a week," said one rescue worker.

Unconfirmed reports said attempts would be made to pierce the thin shaft to the section where the men are trapped by drilling from the surface. A hole would ensure fresh air, food, and communications with any survivors below.

MAN RESCUED AFTER 16 HOURS IN TIDE OF MUD

ELY, Minn. (AP) — A hardy miner who joked through a 16-hour ordeal 1,500 feet underground was rescued uninjured Friday night after being trapped by a tide of mud in the red caverns of Pioneer Mine.

"Thanks, Howie," whispered Joseph Mishmash, 50, to his life-long friend, John "Howie" Sayovitz, the first to reach him after rescue squads drilled and blasted through a 16-foot wall of iron ore.

Sayovitz, choked with emotion, was unable to speak as Mishmash squeezed past him in the three-foot wide rescue tunnel and crawled to safety.

A mudflow at 8:30 a.m. sealed the bottom of the vertical shaft in which Mishmash was working. Rescuers reached him at 11:25 p.m.

Through his long wait, Mishmash buoyed himself by bantering through a metal tube with his rescuers in the rough good humor of the underground. "They told me they might let me wait until Sunday so I couldn't go fishing on Saturday," he said. "Then they started razzing me again about what was going to happen to all that money I'm supposed to have."

Of the $93,184.71 levy against the taxpayers of the township, $70,913.90 was placed by the school board.

YOUR TEMPER
Keep your temper. Nobody in this world wants it. Yet a temper must serve many good purposes—or we all would not have come into this world. There is too little regard given to one's temper. It should have more attention. A thing so universal should have the greatest minds directed to its uses and development. Perhaps that will come about. Maybe there will come some Doctors of Temper. D.T. At any rate the demand is here.

Even at the present time—with little or no attention being given to temper is beginning to come into its own as one of the useful arts. I hope to be blamed for turning temper as an art. Temper may take many turns, as for example in "righteous indignation." Or as a special species of "itch." Then it is a very useful thing to have about one's house, and some Temperers differ so widely, however, and are of such various makes that it is still considered bad form to leave them lying around unguarded. Or without their rightful owners within close call.

But whatever class of temper you may have, do not advertise it. Or make too much of it. It is very important, however, that you keep on good terms with it. For at the time you may most regret it may trip you up and tumble you into some strange abyss.

TEN YEARS AGO
Adams County Is 150 Years Old Sunday: Begin Observance Of Sesqui-Climax Comes Next Summer: Formal observance of Adams county's Sesqui-centennial year begins Sunday, the county's 150th birthday anniversary.

January 22, 1950, is the 150th anniversary of the signing by Governor Thomas McKean of the bill passed by the state Legislature at Harrisburg creating Adams county.

Named for John Adams, then president of the young United States of America, the county was separated from York county just as York county 51 years earlier had separated from Lancaster county.

Pastors throughout the county will take notice through their sermons, church calendars or other means, of the anniversary and throughout next week and much of the remainder of the month service clubs, women's organizations, lodges, schools and other civic groups will observe the Sesqui date with special programs.

As the regular January term of court convenes on Monday morning the anniversary will be noted.

The county's Sesqui-centennial committee of approximately 30 persons has, through its sub-committee, promoted observance of the January anniversary date while plans go forward for the major celebration from August 29 to Labor Day, September 4.

Church Elects Six Councilmen: Six councilmen were elected at the annual congregational meeting of Christ Lutheran church Wednesday evening following a congregational dinner.

Two hundred and one persons were served dinners by the Women's Service Guild of the church. Mrs. John Katreider was general chairman.

Councilmen elected were Dr. Harry F. Bingham, Franklin Coffey, Dr. Lloyd C. Kestelover, Weaver and Dr. John B. Zinn.

Attorney C. W. Wolf Will Resume Practice Here: Attorney Charles W. Wolf has resigned his position as attorney and legal advisor to the commanding general, United States Air Forces in Europe, Wiesbaden, Germany, to return to the private practice of law here, it was announced today.

Attorney Wolf, a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Guy Wolf, East London avenue, arrived at Westover Field, Mass., Tuesday by military aircraft from Frankfurt, Germany. In the near future he will reopen here the law practice he closed June 1, 1942, to enter the military service.

Mr. Wolf accepted his civilian position with the Air Force headquarters in Europe on February 17, 1947, upon his discharge from the military service in Frankfurt, Germany. He was first served as attorney for Lt. Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, then commanding general of the air forces in Europe, and now commanding general of the Strategic Air Command.

He has resigned his post on once before, in the spring of 1949, but because of the extra work arising in connection with the Berlin Airlift was urged to reconsider this decision and withdraw his resignation.

Trinity Church Holds Election At Annual Meet: New deacons and elders were elected and financial reports of the various organizations of the church were given at the annual congregational meeting of Trinity Evangelical Reformed Church Tuesday night in the social rooms.

Just Folks

THE AVERAGE MAN
Mine is a song of the average man
Who has been on earth since the world began!
You will find him kind, and you'll find him true;
You will find him cheerful and happy, too.
He's never proud and he's never mean;
He walks the earth with a conscience clean;
The squarest fellow that God could plan
On earth today is the average man.

He loves his wife and he loves his home,
He isn't the fellow who likes to roam;
He keeps his love for his fellow man,
And bears his burden as best he can.
He's a gentle neighbor, a faithful friend,
And will fight for him to the bitter end.
The dearest fellow that God could plan
On earth today is the average man.

The average man doesn't cheat or lie,
Or wrong his brothers. He doesn't try
To climb to glory and gain the crown
By pulling a weaker brother down.
He's always found on the side of right;
His crest is always a spotless white,
And off as the wrongs of the world I scan,
I thank the Lord for the average man.

A Bit Of History About Early Settlers

By B. F. M. MacPHERSON
JAMES GREEN, MURDERER
The story of the James Green-Samuel Mars murder case, the first installment of which appeared in this column last week, is continued at this time with notes on the direct testimony during the trial.

In the testimony given by Michael Warner, the first witness, quite a bit of light is thrown upon some of the rather obscure facets of the case. The John Woods, at whose home the murder was committed, was a stepson of James Green, the man who shot Samuel Mars. The occasion was a festive one for a "flirting" at that time, not only involved hard work, but since neighbors and friends turned out to help, it was a social get-together as well.

On this first day of April, 1852, it was John Woods and his family who were moving to a house on the "Big Hill."

2. Second Witness — Rachel Woods — "I am the wife of John Woods. We were moving on the first of April last. I saw Samuel Mars that morning before we went up on the Hill. I also saw James Green that morning — had a talk with him going up on the Hill. He (Green) said he would break Samuel Mars' plans today, the day of the infernal rascal. I asked him (Green) how he was going to do this? He (Green) said he would show me it was going up the Hill. Green asked Mars if he was a man? Mars said he was a man. Green told Green he wanted nothing to do with him; then Green shot Mars with a pistol.

"Had A Revenge"
"Green said he had a revenge at Mars but that it was out now. They (Green and Mars) were standing face to face when the shooting occurred. Green went outdoors after he fired the pistol at Mars. Mars followed him and threw a stick at him. Mars started to come back to the house and fell. Samuel Mars lived for about an hour and a half after he was shot. That was about eleven o'clock in the morning. They (Green and Mars) were in the room at our house. I was standing behind Samuel Mars. I had been cutting the pies but was doing nothing at the time the shooting took place. Mars said Green would not kill any more men about fifteen minutes before he died.

"Samuel Mars was a middling large man — Green somewhat smaller. Isaac Woods was also in the room at the time the shooting took place. Both (Green and Mars) had had a drink of whiskey. Paul Sowers, Charley Sanders, Daniel Cline, Nancy Woods, John Woods were also in the room when Mars was shot."

"Feared No Man"
3. Third Witness — Paul Sowers — "I was at John Woods' on the first of April last. I saw both James Green and Samuel Mars there. When I went into the house of John Woods I went in through the kitchen into the room of the house on the Big Hill. I heard James Green say that he feared no man living; Mars said he did not fear any one man. I saw Green come up close to Mars — Mars took his hand and pushed Green back and told him to stay away and not bother him (Mars). After that I went out into the kitchen and just as I went out of the room door I heard the crack of a pistol and then Green ran out through the kitchen past me. Mars ran after and followed him.

"Mars picked up a small stick and when about two rods from the house threw it at Green. Mars turned to come back to the house but fell before he reached the door. Woods helped him to get near the house where he lay down on some hay.

"A few minutes afterwards James Green returned to the house. John Woods told him he would strike hemp for shooting Mars. Green told Woods that he did not care, he expected to hang anyway. Daniel Cline asked Green why he shot Mars without reason. Green answered that he shot Mars and then went across the hill towards Benderville. This was about eleven o'clock in the morning.

Green Carried Pistol
"The Coroner's Jury met about six or seven hours after Samuel Mars died."

4. Fourth Witness — Daniel Cline Kline — "I was at the house on the Big Hill and I heard James Green say that he feared no man living. I knew that Green carried a pistol for I had seen it from time to time. I was in the room when the shooting took place."

Note: The remainder of the evidence given by Daniel Cline agrees with that already offered by the first three witnesses.

5. Fifth Witness — Charley Sanders — "I went with James Green to the Woods house on the Hill. As we were following the road up the Hill Green said to Rachel Woods 'Sam Mars did not speak to me today — but never mind — I will lay his plans today.' At the house I saw Mars lay his hand on Green. I also heard the pistol go off.

"I was standing in the doorway — off to one side. I was more in the kitchen than in the room where the shooting took place."

6. Sixth Witness — John Woods — "I was at my own house, on the Big Hill, on the first of April last.

"James Green is my step-father.

Seventh Witness
"James Green had carried the pistol, with which he shot Samuel Mars, for five or six years. He (Green) said that he carried it the pistol to defend himself against anyone that would interrupt him."

7. Seventh Witness — Charles Myers — "On the second of April I brought James Green to jail. On the way coming down, says I, 'Jim, I expected this would turn out with you this way, some day, with your pistol.' Then he (Green) told me, 'I am sorry it was done but I had to do it as my own defense.' I then told him, 'Jim, you know there was no use of your doing a thing of that kind, you know Sam Mars was never very quarrelsome. You know Sam would not have hurt you.' He (Green) said that he did not know what Mars would do, he (Mars) was a great deal stouter. I then asked Green what he and Mars had quarreled about? He (Green) told me that his step-daughter, Nancy Woods, was hired by Sam Mars' mother and he (Green) did not want the girl to stay there; that he thought Sam Mars wanted her for his own accommodation; and she (Nancy Woods) appeared to want to stay there (at the house of Samuel Mars and his mother).

"Forced To Shoot"
"He (Green) said he was sorry he was forced to shoot Mars but he (Green) was determined to put a stop to Mars' affair with his step-daughter."

Note: — It would appear from the above testimony that James Green gave Charles Myers the motive underlying not only the crime itself but also the reason for the "bad feeling" between the two men — which finally led to murder.

8. Eighth Witness — Nancy Woods — "I was at the house of my brother on the first of April last. I went up on the Big Hill. I was in the house at the time he shot was fired.

"I am a stepdaughter of James Green."

Note: — The remainder of the testimony given by Nancy Woods is very similar to that already given. No new evidence was brought to light.

9. Ninth Witness — Dr. Munn — "I was called upon by Esquire Bocher to assist in an examination of the body of Samuel Mars. After my arrival the Coroner arrived and requested me to assist him. I did the contents of the pistol entered the belly about two inches above the navel, a little to the left, passing back towards the spinal column, towards the backbone. We found some of the shot; there might have been slugs. Mars was wounded in the belly. The shot was the cause of his death."

At this point the Commonwealth rested.

Others Testify
"Mr. McConaughy opens for the Prisoner."

1. First Witness — Jesse Cook — "I have known James Green for about eight years and understood that he came here from Rappahannock County, Virginia. I think he carried a pistol ever since he came into our neighborhood, eight years ago last spring. I saw the pistol frequently in his pants pocket. He worked for me — about the first work he did after he came into the neighborhood — and on an off until his arrest. I think he carried the pistol all the time. He told me he carried it to defend himself against kidnappers.

"Catharine Payne was considered his sister in the neighborhood. I was one of the persons who carried on the prosecution against Thomas Finnigan and I think that was about seven years ago. Catharine Payne lived about a mile from Benderville. Jim also lived in that neighborhood — don't know that he had any particular home. Jim was a laboring man."

Note: — The Payne-Finnigan case was a rather famous one in this County. There were several instances of freed negroes being kidnapped, taken over the line into Maryland or Virginia, and there resold as slaves.

The notes on the Green-Mars murder case will be continued in this column next week with additional evidence as given for the defense.

"REMEMBERING AND MEMORIES"
It's wonderful how remembering . . . can span both time and space . . . bringing to a lonely heart . . . things it cannot replace . . . lost love can be recaptured . . . through memory's tender kiss . . . we ride on magic carpets . . . into the land of bliss . . . sweet days of used-to-be come back . . . and for a moment stay . . . when we are blessed to pick a rose . . . from memory's bouquet . . . some say things past should be forgotten . . . yet, I don't agree . . . for many times they rise like islands . . . on life's stormy sea . . . yes, memories can make a flame . . . out of the faintest ember . . . but the secret lies in knowing . . . just what we should remember.

Let's Look At The Record

ORGANIZED CHEATING
Midwestern Prof. Indicts Students
Other Educators Hotly Disagree

CROWDED CLASSROOMS and so-called objective tests of the multiple response and true-false type were considered by students at Pocahontas State College two or three years ago as a principal cause of most of the cheating that occurred on that campus.

There can be little doubt but that crowding for this type of examination is highly conducive to the quick and furtive glance and the slipped sheet. This type of test and these techniques are made to order for the fair, freshman coed with vacant stare and winsome smile.

Should the young Phi Beta with bulging brow, who is charmed by the winsome smile, be ousted for breach of faith with his Alma Mater when he slips his plus and minus sheet within easy range of her furtive glances, or should he be congratulated upon his ability to render aid to a lady in distress? As previously observed in this column, strong men have debated this point.

Be that as it may, were it not for the failure of the teacher to create alternative quizzes for alternate distribution, followed by proper supervision, the young Phi Beta would not be confronted with this delicate balancing of ethics.

Actually, a relatively small percentage of students consistently cheat. Most cheating is by freshman who do it out of mental desperation arising from their own fears of inadequacies. A great majority of them flunk out or voluntarily withdraw before the end of a sophomore year.

THE CRITICAL PROFESSOR has found little sympathy or agreement. The dean of men at the University of Wisconsin, Theodore Zillman, labels the allegations as the view of "a jaundiced eye."

Others admit "cheating is a problem" but no more than it has ever been. Some have observed that in long years of teaching they have taken no more than reasonable steps toward giving each student as much space and/or privacy as possible and have found cheating to be no problem whatsoever.

ACTUALLY TESTING and examining is a part of the learning process. It is necessarily a hundred per cent relationship between the individual teacher and groups of students who are his classroom contacts.

It is a well known fact that any reasonably adept college professor can create examination questions that it makes no difference whether the student has a book, confers with associates, or takes recourse to cribbed notes.

Making such a test is a problem in the handling and correlating of facts that are known or presumed to be known. A poor grade or failure on such a test rests upon a student's demonstrated inability to handle, correlate and reason through facts that may be known, or may be acquired on the spot, by reference to books or other individuals.

IN TAKING such exams, students who are busy chasing facts frequently experience a collapse in coherence, reveal duplicity, if any, and flunk the quiz largely through time loss and confusion of hastily acquired facts. Realizing this, many teachers absent themselves entirely from the room or spend their time in the room reading or grading other exam papers.

They are therefore often credited by their own students with "winking at cheating."

Actually, if an instructor is giving an examination of this type he owes his presence in spirit as well as in fact to his students writing the exam. There are often legitimate questions students may and should ask of him. Such exams are indeed a part of the learning process.

High Prices Of Drugs Are Being Probed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate investigators want to know why an American buyer has to pay $2.05 a batch for tranquilizer pills that can be bought in Paris for 77 cents.

The Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee, which is looking into drug pricing, called more medical experts to testify Friday.

Chairman Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) said he also wants more light shed on allegations that a dispute involving patent rights on newly developed medicines has been slowing the government's search for cancer cures.

Kefauver told the head of a Philadelphia firm Thursday its prices for tranquilizer drugs were "completely out of line." He said it is time to see whether something can be done about that.

Insist They're Reasonable
Kefauver was addressing Walter A. Munn, president, and other officials of Smith Kline & French. Munn insisted the firm's prices are reasonable.

The subcommittee staff had produced evidence which, it said, showed that druggists pay $3.03 for 50 tablets of the tranquilizer chlorpromazine produced by Munn's company under the name Thorazine. The tranquilizers then are sold to the public by the druggist, the staff said, at a price of $5.05 for 50 tablets.

The chart listed prices for 50 tablets of this drug, manufactured by a French firm, as 51 cents to the druggists of Paris, and 77 cents to the French patient. Canadian druggists pay $3.75 for 50 French-produced tablets of the medicine, the evidence showed, and retail them for $7.05 to the public.

NAMED JUDGE IN YORK COUNTY

HARRISBURG (AP) — Atty. Spencer R. Liverant Friday was appointed a York County Common Pleas Court judge by Gov. Lawrence.

The appointment is subject to Senate confirmation.

The 1959 Legislature created an additional judgeship in the county. The term runs until 1962.

A judge to serve a full 10-year term will be elected in November, 1961.

The legislation creating the new judgeship stipulated there be no election for the post until 1961. It authorized the governor to make an interim appointment.

Liverant, 48, is a former president of the York County Bar Assn. He is a law partner of former Judge Walter I. Anderson.

His home is in Wyndham Hills, Spring Garden Twp. He is married and has one child.

The Fort Wallace Memorial Museum in Kansas contains relics of Wild Bill Hickok, Gen. George Custer and other historical figures of the Old West.

HAWAIIANS EXPERIMENT WITH LAVA

HONOLULU (AP) — Hawaiians owe a lot to their lava. Without it, and the volcanoes that spewed the fearful stuff, there wouldn't be a Hawaii.

But until recently, lava lay where it fell, useless and often a destroyer.

With the islands determined to develop themselves economically, Hawaiians are taking another look at their most plentiful resource.

Restoration Program
—Land ravaged by lava flows is being restored to cultivation with a new technique.

—The construction industry is using lava for building block and as an ingredient in cement.

—Modern buildings in Honolulu are using lava in pillars and facings.

And, one day perhaps, Hawaiian fashions will be made with a Hawaiian material—lava.

Reception Eruption
Six square miles of farm land on the island of Hawaii were covered by molten lava in the eruption of 1955. It could take decades, in some cases even centuries, for nature to turn the lava into useful farming soil.

But an agricultural expert here, Richard J. Lyman Jr., noticed grass growing along roads built across old lava flows. He decided that breaking up the lava might expose minerals in the rock that can sustain plant life—phosphate and potash.

Experimenters have borne out Lyman's theory. A University of Hawaii geologist, Agatun T. Abbott, believes lava-ruined land can be restored to productivity with a good bull-dozing job.

Productive Bed
One old flow is now supporting 70,000 trees bearing tasty macadamia nuts.

This, says Abbott, "would provide an almost inexhaustible supply of these essential building materials and stop the depletion of beach sands, which is detrimental to the visitor industry."

The most imaginative use of lava-as cloth—seems the most remote. But Abbott, has recommended the idea be studied.

Commercially, the construction industry has been in the forefront with its use of lava in cement. Tests now underway may also result in grinding lava as a substitute for sand in concrete-making.

WILL FINISH TRIP BY SHIP

MONTEGO BAY, Jamaica (AP) —Two survivors of the Colombian airliner crash that killed 37 persons said Friday they will make the last leg of their jinxed trip to Ecuador by ship.

"I don't care if we have to go to Greenland to get a ship," said Ian Kelton, 46, a United Nations official traveling with his wife to a new assignment in South America.

The Keltons, two Dutch passengers and five crew members escaped virtually unhurt in the crash early Thursday of the Avianca airliner from New York. All 17 Americans aboard were killed.

There had been one interruption before the Super Constellation of the Avianca Colombian National Airline met tragedy on this Caribbean holiday island. A coughing engine forced a 10-hour stopover for repairs in Miami. Four passengers quit the plane there.

When the big plane overturned and exploded in flames after setting down here, the Keltons, wrenched their way out through an emergency exit and splashed through a swampy lagoon to safety.

Ragged Start Fatal To GHS As Trojans Win 56-44 To Clinch First Half Crown

Colder in shooting than the weather outside during the first half when they fell behind 22-12, the Gettysburg High Warriors bowed to Chambersburg 56-44 here Friday evening as the winners clinched the first half title of the South Penn League.

The Warriors playing before the largest home crowd in many years approximately 1,000 collected just three field goals in the first half and that spelled defeat as a gallant rally in the third period slashed the visitors 16-point budge at half time to but 30-24 midway in the period but that was as close as Gettysburg could come.

Chambersburg ripped off to a 17-6 lead in the first period as the Warriors were completely disorganized and landed but one goal, that by Jim Townsend after 40 minutes. That was the last goal for the locals until Don Goldsmith drove through for a lay-up with 2:24 left in the second quarter and by that time the Trojans were leading 25-10. Time and again Gettysburg missed easy shots. Just before the half ended Roger Elker got Gettysburg's third goal. Leon Rideout Tom Wertz and Jim Schacter each tabbed seven points for Chambersburg during the first half.

Warriors Rally
Coach George Foney revamped his lineup for the third period and it paid dividends. After the first minute of play the score stood 30-14 but then the Warriors reeled off 10 straight points on a side shot by Furney short chucks by Hardy Nichols and Ecker fouls by Nichols and Don Waddell and a lay up on a steal by Nichols. Chambersburg recovered on goals by Leon Rideout and Schacter Ecker and Waddell matched goals by Rideout and Schacter as the round ended 38-28.

Mike Small dropped through a pair of goals early in the final quarter but the Warriors could never get closer than eight points as Carl Watson and Rideout kept their team in front with a duo of goals each. In the last frame Ecker added a pair of goals. Nichols Townsend and Goldsmith one each for Gettysburg.

The loss was the second straight for Gettysburg and dropped their overall mark to 6-4. Chambersburg has now won seven straight for an overall log of 9-2.

Rideout was the games top point man with 18 tallies. Ecker was the lone Warrior to get into double figures on his five goals.

Jayeves Go Down
The Gettysburg reserves also got off to a weak start trailing 25-11 at half time and lost the preliminary 43-33 despite a nice comeback in the second half. Jim McClear landed 13 points to be high man for the local jayeves. Mull took the scoring honors for the visitors with 19.

Gettysburg winds up its first half league season at Biglerville Tuesday evening.

Keep Layers Eating To Avoid Egg Laying Slump Says County Farm Agent

BY FRANK S. ZETTLE
County Farm Agent

One main reason for slump in egg production is a drop in feed consumption. If poultrymen detect a decline in feed consumption, they can follow certain practices which increase feed intake.

FRANK S. ZETTLE

One way to increase feed consumption is to furnish mash in a different and appealing form. The simplest way is to feed the amount of pellets the birds will clean up in on hour. Wet mash, made by mixing mash and water, is also very appealing to the birds. Mix in three pounds of dry mash for each 100 birds. Some mixing wet mash is quite laborious, just pour two pounds of water per 100 birds over the dry mash in the feeders for the same effect. Chickens are fond of both wet mash and pellets and both methods of feeding are helpful in getting them to eat more mash.

Feeding supplements, such as semisolid milk or other milk by products, is a good way to increase feed intake. Semisolid milk should be fed at the rate of three pounds per day for 100 birds. Some folks spray extra antibiotics if the birds are off feed because they are out of condition.

Providing ample feeding space is important in maintaining maximum feed intake. There to 100 5-foot feeders should be provided per 100 birds. With all mash rations some growers provide 40 feet of feeding space per 100 layers. Many poultrymen have found that frequent stirring of the mash in troughs has helped to increase the mash intake. If hens show preference for certain grains, the amount should be increased in the scratch mixture.

Minerals In Dairy Rations

Two mineral elements needed in greatest amount by dairy cows are calcium and phosphorus.

Calves and heifers must have them in relatively large amounts to make normal skeletal growth. Milking cows need even larger amounts because milk is a rich source of both calcium and phosphorus.

A good feeding program should supply ample quantities of these minerals at all times. It should also supply them in the proper balance; the cow or calf requires about twice as much calcium as phosphorus. If they are not fed in approximately this two to one ratio, the animals cannot utilize them efficiently.

Many dairymen make the mistake of adding ground limestone to their dairy rations. Limestone is a good source of calcium but contains no phosphorus whatever. Feeding programs which stress large amounts of forage are apt to be low in phosphorus than calcium. By adding more calcium (limestone) without adding phosphorus at the time, a bad situation is made even worse.

Steamed bone meal and dicalcium phosphate are two good, yet inexpensive, sources of both of these minerals in the right proportion. All grain rations fed to dairy calves, heifers, or cows should contain one per cent (20 pounds per ton) of either steamed bone meal or dicalcium phosphate. Feed it free choice in a salt box, especially if grain feeding is limited and forage supplies most of the nutrients. Ground limestone should not be added to a dairy ration.

Farm Income Tax

Be sure to claim all allowable deductions when you file your income tax return.

Too many farmers fail to do this. As a result, they pay more income taxes than they should.

Deductions can be taken on all farm buildings except the dwelling and machinery and equipment; the purchase price of work-

HAZLETON, Pa. (AP) — The Eastern Professional Basketball League has canceled plans for an all-star game this season because attendance is declining.

WEST CHESTER, Pa. (AP) — Donald D'Amico, 15, and his brother, John, 16, believed the ice on a nearby pond was thick enough for skating.

Donald walked out on a Friday to test it. The ice broke away and he drowned.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — James Francis Jenkins, of Leavenworth, now serving a 10-year term for robbery, was given a concurrent 10-year sentence Friday for escaping from prison.

SHENANDOAH, Pa. (AP) — Joseph Penick, 30, died Friday when his car plunged 400 feet into a strip mine of which he was superintendent.

Either the ground gave way or his car hit an icy spot near the edge, police said.

A resident of nearby Lakewood, he was superintendent of Shenandoah strip operations of the Reading Anthracite Co.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Eight Catholic hospitals which withdrew from Blue Cross in a contract dispute have decided to negotiate directly with the agency rather than accept the findings of the American Hospital Assn.

"We believe that a permanent solution can best be achieved by negotiating with officials from the Blue Cross and we are willing to do this whenever they ask us," the hospitals said Friday.

HARRISBURG (AP) — Plans are being made for a new recreation park in Schuylkill County with federal, state and local financing as part of a watershed program on Locust Creek, near Pottsville and Tamqua.

The State Forests and Waters Department, which will build the park said Friday the project, including a multi-purpose reservoir, will provide facilities for swimming, boating and fishing.

DE TOUR, Mich. (AP) — This town of 611 persons in Michigan's Upper Peninsula wants a doctor. Mayor Maurice Ainsworth, guarantees a taker from $14,000 to $18,000 a year. That's how much the townspeople pay in calls to the nearest doctor at Sault Ste. Marie, 60 miles away.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — A Kansas man disclosed Friday he was a stowaway on an automobile trip to the summit of Pike's Peak last summer.

He said he hid in the trunk of the car to avoid paying the toll on the Peak Highway.

"Later, I began to think that wasn't the thing to do," he said in a note accompanying a check for 50 cents, the toll fee.

City officials declined to disclose his name.

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — State Parks Division employees have been issued new Confederate gray uniforms, replacing the traditional forest green outfits they have for years.

Wife Of Dr. Spears Says Another Convict Took Her Husband's Place On Plane

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Instead of portly Dr. Robert Vernon Spears it was another ex-convict using his airline ticket who died in a Nov. 16 plane crash, Spears' wife said Thursday night.

This disclosure in a dramatic radio-television interview by Frances Spears, 36, followed by little more than 24 hours the FBI's discovery and arrest of her 6-year-old husband in Phoenix, Ariz.

She said Spears, a former Dallas native, gave his reservation to William Allen Taylor, 60, of Tampa, Fla., read next day that the airliner had crashed into the Gulf of Mexico, and seized the opportunity to disappear. Forty-two persons went down with the plane.

Wanted Insurance

Spears, whom she had believed dead for nearly two months, told about the deception during a secret visit with his wife here two weeks ago, Mr. Spears related. He hoped his family could collect more than $100,000 in life insurance, she said.

Her account was made public here about the same time an Arizona friend of Spears, Dr. William A. Turska, 70, in Phoenix of finding a case of dynamite cached near a desert cabin where he hid Spears after the crash.

Mrs. Spears denied that her husband planted a bomb in the National Airlines-operated plane or had anything to do with the crash.

Probe Sabotage

Turska, freed after six hours of questioning by the FBI in Phoenix Thursday, said he understood investigators found dynamite fuses in Spears' luggage. An FBI spokesman declined comment.

Both the Civil Aeronautics Board and a Senate Aviation subcommittee have been trying to determine whether bombs caused the Nov. 16 crash and that of another National Airlines plane Jan. 6 near Bolivia, N.C.

Mrs. Spears first gave her account in an exclusive interview which Eddie Barker, news director of Dallas stations KRLD and KRLD-TV, transcribed at her two-story brick home in East Dallas. She elaborated a bit in talking with a reporter after the broadcast.

Meets Hubby Jan. 7

"I first knew about Dr. Spears being alive on Jan. 7 when Dr. Turska rang my door bell and handed me a letter from Dr. Spears in his handwriting," she said. Previously she had said the date was Jan. 3.

"At first I thought it was a trick. But I had to know. I went with Dr. Turska to the Lakewood Hotel the night of Jan. 7 and it was quite an emotional meeting—for I thought Dr. Spears was dead, and there he stood in front of me."

How Spears induced Taylor to board the airliner in his place at Tampa was not clear.

In Tampa, Taylor's ex-wife Alice said—as she had earlier—that her former husband "was unduly influenced by Dr. Spears and betrayed." Expressing "great shock" at Mrs. Spears' statements, Mrs. Taylor added:

Bought Insurance Policy

"I hoped against all odds something would turn up and that Mr. Taylor wasn't on that plane, although I felt all along he was on the plane because I had not heard from him."

A $37,500 policy of Taylor's life, issued from a vending machine at Tampa's International Airport, reached Mrs. Taylor by mail two days after the crash. It showed Taylor, making a round trip flight to Dallas, obtained the policy 13 minutes before the airliner took off.

FBI men questioned Mrs. Spears and searched her home prior to Thursday night's broadcast. They declined to say what was found. There was an unofficial report the agents paid special attention to 26 volumes on hypnosis in the Spears house.

Mrs. Taylor had voiced a belief to Tampa police earlier that her ex-husband must have been hypnotized to agreed to board the airliner.

A Dallas lawyer for the Spears family, Charles W. Tessmer, told reporters he believed "hypnosis was involved" in the case.

Mrs. Spears said she asked her husband two weeks ago "why it had happened and what had happened."

"He said he drove Al's car so Al (Taylor) could fly here to have his injured neck repaired," she recounted. "He said he read about the crash of the plane and he saw an opportunity to leave me and the babies with some financial security."

"He felt he had been a burden, and it was a chance to free us of that burden."

Mrs. Spears, a thin and rather tall former secretary, and her husband have two children—10-month-old Robin Deborah and 2-year-old Robert Kenneth.

Why did Taylor take the plane from Tampa in place of Spears?

"He said that Al's wife was giving him a rough time," Mrs. Spears said, "and he wanted to get away from her and see about his neck injury."

At another point Mrs. Spears related:

"He told me Al was on the

BACK ELLIOTT FOR CONGRESS

CHAMBERSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Sen. Douglas Elliott (R-Franklin) has been endorsed by the Franklin County Republican organization to run for the 18th Congressional District seat.

Ninety GOP conferees from the eight-county district met Monday night at Huntingdon to choose a candidate for the unexpired term of the late Rep. Richard M. Simpson, Huntingdon Republican.

Endorsement of Elliott, vice president of Wilson College, was made Friday night as the Franklin GOP committee named its 20 conferees to the Huntingdon meeting.

A special election to fill the vacancy will be held at the April 26 primary.

At least four other Republicans have been mentioned as possible candidates.

The Democratic candidate will be chosen by the party's state executive committee at a meeting in Harrisburg, also on Monday.

PANAMA (AP)—Peruvian Ambassador Jose Francisco Mariategui has delivered a note to the U.S. Caribbean Command expressing his country's gratitude for emergency aid given earthquake victims in Arequipa, Peru, last week. U.S. planes flew supplies of food, blankets and tents to the stricken area.

At Hoboken, more than 1,000 men walked out of the Bethlehem yard. In West Milton, N.Y., 250 workers struck, halting production of the prototype hull for the destroyer Bainbridge, being built at Quincy.

More than 300 bridges span the 150 canals of Venice.

Strike Stops Work On Nuclear Powered Ships

QUINCY, Mass. (AP)—Work on a billion dollars worth of ship construction—including three nuclear-powered vessels—halted today as a strike by Bethlehem Steel Co. shipbuilders spread along the East Coast.

More than 17,000 workers at nine Bethlehem plants were expected to be affected by the walkout, which began Friday at Hoboken, N.J., and jumped to West Milton, N.Y., and Quincy today. Some 12,250 employees already were involved in the dispute.

A spokesman for Local 5, Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilders, said the full impact of the strike might not be felt until Monday because only skeleton forces work weekends in some areas.

Other Plants Affected

He said other Bethlehem plants expected to be affected are at East Boston, Mass., Sparrows Point, Key Highway, and Baltimore, Md., and Brooklyn and Staten Island, N.Y.

The strike halted construction in Quincy on the 250-million-dollar cruiser Long Beach, the destroyer Bainbridge, and the frigate Luce. Each is nuclear-powered. Work also ceased on the cruiser Springfield, being converted into a missile carrier, and on five tankers. Some 11,000 workers were affected in Quincy.

At Hoboken, more than 1,000 men walked out of the Bethlehem yard. In West Milton, N.Y., 250 workers struck, halting production of the prototype hull for the destroyer Bainbridge, being built at Quincy.

Seniority Grievances

The union's contract with Bethlehem expired July 31. A union spokesman said the basic grievances are seniority and call-in pay. Wage increases had not been discussed, he said.

John F. McGonigal, executive secretary of Local 5, said there are three classes of hourly rated mechanics at the Quincy Fore River yard. This is the largest affected by the strike. The mechanics are paid, respectively, $2.80, $2.63 and $2.54. At Bethlehem's West Coast yards, he said, there is only one class of mechanics who are paid $2.65 an hour.

McGonigal said the usual practice has been to give four hours pay to an employee called in and then sent home because of lack of work. Under present work rules, he said, the company will pay only one hour.

"But on the West Coast," he said, "the company has restored the four-hour call-in pay."

182,536 Birth In First Nine Months

HARRISBURG (AP)—A total of 182,536 births and 36,983 deaths were reported in Pennsylvania during the first nine months of 1959.

The Health Department figures, released Friday, compares with 183,046 births and 36,935 deaths in the same period of 1958.

Heart disease remained the principal cause of death as it has over the past several years. There were 36,489 deaths attributed to various heart diseases.

The next biggest cause of death was cancer, 14,132 cases.

DO YOU HAVE ARTHRITIS?
Here is a message you will want to read.
Your doctor can tell you there is absolutely NO KNOWN CURE for arthritis. Medical research specialists are now engaged in several projects which, it is felt, will ultimately help in finding a cure, but as yet none has been found. Naturally, we all live in hope they will be successful, but until that time we must content to get the best relief possible. Right now there is a fast, safe and effective relieving agent available called Provo. Provo's ingredients have been used in hospitals and clinics, prescribed by doctors, and have helped scores of men and women to lead happy and full lives. You can be sure nothing is faster, safer or has been proven more effective than Provo for a temporary easing of a minor arthritis condition or its related diseases—rheumatism, neuritis, sciatica, lumbago and bursitis. And it's wonderful for backache and every-day muscular aches and pains, too. Try Provo today. Ask your druggist for a generous 75-tablet TRIAL SIZE BOTTLE. You must be satisfied with the results or your purchase price will be refunded by the maker. There are larger, economy sizes also, for continued use.
